Bromley YAP essay

During the Young Adult Patroller competition at Bromley I got the chance to meet many skilled snowboarders and skiers from all over the eastern coast. At Bromley I also got to experience terrain that I wasn't used to at Mountain Creek. I was taught how to pull sleds in moguls but never actually got to pull any in them until the Toboggan test at Bromley. I asked around and everyone was happy to lend me tips even though we were competing against each other. You couldn't tell that this was a competition from how everyone was acting. Everyone was smiling, goofing around, and just having fun skiing and snowboarding like your suppose to. The atmosphere was electric too. Everyone being excited and ready to show everyone else their skills brought out the best in each other. After seeing some of them pull the sleds through the moguls i decided to go next and what an experience it was. Never had I had so much fun pulling a sled. I picked my route carefully and was laughing the whole way down. At the bottom everyone was complementing each other on how they pulled their sleds and what route they used. The Young Adult Patroller competition was hands down one of the best programs I have gone to and will definitely be coming back next year. Getting a plaque for second place in the toboggan skills just boosts my confidence level with my snowboard and my ability to handle the sled especially since it was my first time in the moguls too.
